VIII. Limited English Proficiency (LEP) Analysis

The City of Doral is located in Miami-Dade County, Florida. According to the 2014-2019 American Community Survey (conducted by the U.S. Census Bureau), the City's estimated total population was 59,972 residents, of which 50,985 people (estimated 85.0%) self-identified as Hispanic or Latino.

The principal languages among the City's residents are English and Spanish. According to the 2014-2019 American Community Survey, 12% of City residents reported speaking only English and 81.1% of the City residents are reported as being able to speak Spanish. The majority of the City's Spanish-speaking residents are bilingual with 75.5% reporting that they speak English "very well". Only 24.5% of the Spanish-speaking residents reported speaking English less than "very well". Of the remaining City residents, 5.0% reported speaking another Indo-European language (other than Spanish), 1.4% reported speaking an Asian or Pacific Island language, and 0.5% reported "other language." Copies of the survey results referenced in this section are attached in Appendix F.

The City's communication tools are the City's website, Doral TV, local community newspapers, social media accounts (Facebook/Instagram/Twitter/YouTube), and the City of Doral Digest (quarterly newsletter). Residents may watch Doral TV from their home (with a Comcast cable subscription) or via the City's website.

The Trolley Administrative Office has employees who are bilingual and are fluent in Spanish. These employees are able to assist any Spanish-speaking resident who calls or emails the office with questions or who request information concerning the trolley service. For passengers on the trolleys, all of the trolley drivers currently provided by the contractor, Limousines of South Florida, Inc., speak Spanish and the City's "Notice of Rights Under Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964" (printed in English and Spanish) is posted in each trolley.

To the extent that a Spanish-speaking resident is disabled and needs assistance in connection with the City's trolley service, that individual can request a reasonable modification in accordance with the City's Disability Non-Discrimination Policy. The policy is available on the City's website in English and Spanish and upon request from the City's ADA Coordinator.

IX. Public Participation Plan

The City of Doral seeks to engage the public in its planning and decision-making processes for the City's trolley service. Members of the public may make a presentation or statement about the trolley service during the "Public Hearing" portion of any City Council meeting regardless of whether the Commission is considering a trolley-related item during that meeting. The agenda for City Commission meetings are published three (3) business days in advance of the meeting on the City's website, and notices of resolutions or ordinances being considered by the City Commission are published in a newspaper of general circulation ten (10) days in advance of a meeting. The newspapers used by the City are the Daily Business Review and the Miami Herald/El Nuevo Herald (for budget and election notices). If any individual wishes to speak during the Public Hearing portion of a Commission meeting, but does not speak English fluently, he or she may contact the City Clerk's Office at least three (3) days in advance to request a translator.

Survey/Program: American Community Survey

Year: 2019

Estimates: 5-Year

Table ID: S0101

Although the American Community Survey (ACS) produces population, demographic and housing unit estimates, it is the Census Bureau's Population Estimates Program that produces and disseminates the official estimates of the population for the nation, states, counties, cities, and towns and estimates of housing units for states and counties.

Source: U.S. Census Bureau, 2015-2019 American Community Survey 5-Year Estimates

When information is missing or inconsistent, the Census Bureau logically assigns an acceptable value using the response to a related question or questions. If a logical assignment is not possible, data are filled using a statistical process called allocation, which uses a similar individual or household to provide a donor value. The "Allocated" section is the number of respondents who received an allocated value for a particular subject.

The age dependency ratio is derived by dividing the combined under-18 and 65-and-over populations by the 18-to-64 population and multiplying by 100.

The old-age dependency ratio is derived by dividing the population 65 and over by the 18-to-64 population and multiplying by 100.

The child dependency ratio is derived by dividing the population under 18 by the 18-to-64 population and multiplying by 100.

Data are based on a sample and are subject to sampling variability. The degree of uncertainty for an estimate arising from sampling variability is represented through the use of a margin of error. The value shown here is the 90 percent margin of error. The margin of error can be interpreted roughly as providing a 90 percent probability that the interval defined by the estimate minus the margin of error and the estimate plus the margin of error (the lower and upper confidence bounds) contains the true value. In addition to sampling variability, the ACS estimates are subject to nonsampling error (for a discussion of nonsampling variability, see ACS Technical Documentation). The effect of nonsampling error is not represented in these tables.

The 2015-2019 American Community Survey (ACS) data generally reflect the September 2018 Office of Management and Budget (OMB) delineations of metropolitan and micropolitan statistical areas. In certain instances, the names, codes, and boundaries of the principal cities shown in ACS tables may differ from the OMB delineation lists due to differences in the effective dates of the geographic entities.

Estimates of urban and rural populations, housing units, and characteristics reflect boundaries of urban areas defined based on Census 2010 data. As a result, data for urban and rural areas from the ACS do not necessarily reflect the results of ongoing urbanization.

Explanation of Symbols:

An "" entry in the margin of error column indicates that either no sample observations or too few sample observations were available to compute a standard error and thus the margin of error. A statistical test is not appropriate.

An "-" entry in the estimate column indicates that either no sample observations or too few sample observations were available to compute an estimate, or a ratio of medians cannot be calculated because one or both of the median estimates falls in the lowest interval or upper interval of an open-ended distribution, or the margin of error associated with a median was larger than the median itself.

error associated with a median was larger than the median itself.

An "-" following a median estimate means the median falls in the lowest interval of an open-ended distribution.
An "+" following a median estimate means the median falls in the upper interval of an open-ended distribution.
An "" entry in the margin of error column indicates that the median falls in the lowest interval or upper interval of an open-ended distribution. A statistical test is not appropriate.
An "" entry in the margin of error column indicates that the estimate is controlled. A statistical test for sampling variability is not appropriate.

Survey/Program: American Community Survey

Year: 2019

Estimates: 5-Year

Table ID: S1601

Although the American Community Survey (ACS) produces population, demographic and housing unit estimates, it is the Census Bureau's Population Estimates Program that produces and disseminates the official estimates of the population for the nation, states, counties, cities, and towns and estimates of housing units for states and counties.

Source: U.S. Census Bureau, 2015-2019 American Community Survey 5-Year Estimates

Data are based on a sample and are subject to sampling variability. The degree of uncertainty for an estimate arising from sampling variability is represented through the use of a margin of error. The value shown here is the 90 percent margin of error. The margin of error can be interpreted roughly as providing a 90 percent probability that the interval defined by the estimate minus the margin of error and the estimate plus the margin of error (the lower and upper confidence bounds) contains the true value. In addition to sampling variability, the ACS estimates are subject to nonsampling error (for a discussion of nonsampling variability, see ACS Technical Documentation). The effect of nonsampling error is not represented in these tables.

The 2015-2019 American Community Survey (ACS) data generally reflect the September 2018 Office of Management and Budget (OMB) delineations of metropolitan and micropolitan statistical areas. In certain instances, the names, codes, and boundaries of the principal cities shown in ACS tables may differ from the OMB delineation lists due to differences in the effective dates of the geographic entities.

Estimates of urban and rural populations, housing units, and characteristics reflect boundaries of urban areas defined based on Census 2010 data. As a result, data for urban and rural areas from the ACS do not necessarily reflect the results of ongoing urbanization.

Explanation of Symbols:

An "" entry in the margin of error column indicates that either no sample observations or too few sample observations were available to compute a standard error and thus the margin of error. A statistical test is not appropriate.

An "-" entry in the estimate column indicates that either no sample observations or too few sample observations were available to compute an estimate, or a ratio of medians cannot be calculated because one or both of the median estimates falls in the lowest interval or upper interval of an open-ended distribution, or the margin of error associated with a median was larger than the median itself.

An "-" following a median estimate means the median falls in the lowest interval of an open-ended distribution.

An "+" following a median estimate means the median falls in the upper interval of an open-ended distribution.

An "*" entry in the margin of error column indicates that the median falls in the lowest interval or upper interval of an open-ended distribution. A statistical test is not appropriate.

An "" entry in the margin of error column indicates that the estimate is controlled. A statistical test for sampling variability is not appropriate.

An "N" entry in the estimate and margin of error columns indicates that data for this geographic area cannot be displayed because the number of sample cases is too small.

An "(X)" means that the estimate is not applicable or not available.

A "limited English speaking household" is one in which no member 14 years old and over (1) speaks only English or (2) speaks a non-English language and speaks English "very well." In other words, all members 14 years old and over have at least some difficulty with English. By definition, English-only households cannot belong to this group. Previous Census Bureau data products have referred to these households as "linguistically isolated" and "Households in which no one 14 and over speaks English only or speaks a language other than English at home and speaks English 'very well'." This table is directly comparable to tables from earlier years that used these labels.

The household language assigned to the housing unit is the non-English language spoken by the first person with a non-English language in the following order: reference person, spouse, parent, sibling, child, grandchild, in-law, other relative, unmarried partner, housemate/roommate, roomer/boarder, foster child, or other nonrelative. If no member of the household age 5 and over speaks a language other than English at home then the household language is English only.
